Instructions:

1. Cut the following from the white cotton fabric:
  - Seven strips, 5" x width of fabric, cut into fifty 5" x 5" squares.
2. Begin by marking a diagonal line, corner-to-corner, on fifty of the printed 5" x 5" squares.
3. Place together a white square and a printed 5" x 5" square, right sides facing. Stitch  $\frac{1}{4}$ " along both sides of the diagonally marked line. Cut the square in half along the marked line, forming two units. Open up the units and press the seams toward the printed fabrics. Stitch, cut and press a total of one hundred blocks.
4. Lay the blocks, randomly placing the blocks throughout each row.
5. Stitch the blocks into rows. Press the seams toward the colored fabrics.
6. Stitch the rows together.
7. Layer the quilt, batting and backing. Baste the layers securely.
8. Quilt the entire top of the quilt.
9. Baste the jumbo rick-rack to the edges of the quilt. Trim the outside edge of the quilt flush before stitching the binding to the quilt.
10. Quilt as desired.
11. Cut binding strips and bind the quilt.
